FOREWORD

The foremost purpose of a college annual is to incorporate within its pages a complete record of the events occurring during the school year. With this view in mind, the board has attempted to make the 1935 edition of the Cherry Tree a true and composite picture of campus life. We have tried to put into a tangible form the transient occurrences of this collegiate year. It is our aim that each student may have a record of the passing joys and experiences of university life. We hope that in years to come as he looks into this book that it will recall to him these college memories.

DEDICATION

In any land travel is recognized as a form of progress and, likewise, in our land of collegiate activity, this is a reliable criterion of achievement. It is typified by the journey from the office of Junior College to that office bearing the title, Columbian College. This was the most recent step in a career marked by steady advances toward higher achievements. In this spirit of progress we respectfully dedicate this volume of the Cherry Tree to Henry Grattan Doyle. His achievement is significant because it is indicative of the true devotion to his scholastic duties and the loyalty which has characterized his every endeavor.

IN MEMORIAM

DOCTOR WILLIAM CLINE BORDEN

TO THE CLASS OF 1935
School of Medicine
The George Washington University

Fellow Students and Fellow Physicians To Be:

I look forward this coming June to welcoming you into the ranks of the medical profession. Our profession is of ancient origin. We have inherited a tradition of high integrity and service to mankind which has brought us an unusual opportunity to be of use to the world. It will be part of your responsibility as physicians to maintain this tradition and to add to the luster of our calling. I feel that the members of this class are to go far in the communities in which you identify yourselves. We expect more than average performance from each one of you. During the past four years we have talked together many times concerning the "ideal physician." I know that you believe in the ideals we have emphasized. We have pointed out that the chief armamentarium of our ideal physician is personal integrity or character. The best physician is not the doctor who knows most, but the doctor who knows the limitations of his knowledge and holds the interests of his patients always first in his mind and heart. Such a physician is known as a "safe doctor" and it is this professional integrity and character which sets him apart from ordinary men in his profession. This is the kind of physician you have been taught to become and I propose a class reunion fifteen years hence, in 1950, to review together your accomplishments.

You are entering the medical profession during a very unique and important phase of our social-economic development as a nation. The world is centering its attention upon the welfare of the masses of the people as well it should. Medicine must play an increasingly important role in the solution of the social problems which lie before us. The burden is to fall largely upon your shoulders and of those students who follow you. Greater and larger emphasis must be placed upon preventive medicine as time goes on and you must carry the responsibilities of developing programs of community medicine with your local health and welfare agencies. This is for the best interests of your patients, and, incidentally, for your own as well. As leaders in your chosen profession and in the activities of your communities you can bring to bear an intelligent and scientific influence upon the lives of your fellowmen, and in sickness or health, aid him in his problems. What greater challenge could lie before any of us?

Your faculty of the School of Medicine will not say farewell to you. Instead we will continue to think of you and our years of study together in the great common bond of medicine. Let us continue then together as fellow students and bring new richness of service and discovery into the integrity and tradition of our profession.

Earl Baldwin McKinley, M.D. Dean

CLASS HISTORY

AUNCHED into the medical sea in the maelstrom of the turbulent waters of two conflicting torrents, the craft of 1935 was early forced to prove its seaworthiness. Grist for the mill, its members were thrown between the grinding wheels of an old and new regime, making the adjustments of a new order. The rest of the country was given the New Deal in March, 1932, but the present troupe of seniors were handed the New Deal with President Marvin's opening address in September, 1931. Intelligence, integrity, and industry were offered as the trinity to medical success with industry, the golden sesame. As if to amplify what Prexy had said and to show the brand new Dean what an industrious crew manned 1935, "Pop" sent the boys scurrying to Lowdermilk's for the latest "bibles," tossed each student a clavicle with the nonchalance of a zoo keeper tossing fish to seals, and the mad race was on. With all hatches battened down and the sheet anchor to windward, the lads and lassies steered for smoother water and calmer seas.

But the helsman, perhaps celebrating Repeal with the clairvoyance of a prophet, soon ran aground and Saturday's leisure was replaced by Saturday's class—or maybe that was more evidence of the industry and application of which this crew was capable. Once more under way and safely past the first exams, the crew tempted fate with class elections. When the smoke of battle from this internecine war had cleared, it was found that "Iron Kelly," Ozzie Christensen, was Class President; Ben Manchester, after a mutiny, much knifing in the back, and several recounts, was Vice-President in a cutthroat scramble for the obscurity position; and Rhoda Lewton and Secretary.

Following this epic event the log pales into insignficance until the close of the year when, with cyclonic vehemence, the crew received new shipping orders which replaced the spring furlough of former years with a final examination in Anatomy, and six weeks of Neuro-anatomy, part of the period in seven hour daily doses. This crew was made of sturdy stuff, indeed.

Rested by a summer's intermission, the crew took another hitch in their belts and re-embarked, but the waters were strange and uncharted. Prexy's word was reassuring. Each man should wear out two tuxedoes during his medical school career. Leisure hours spent exploring the golf course, tennis courts. Stage, screen, and dance floor were heartily recommended, and three extra-curricular books to be read weekly. So the crew spent from nine to five in the usual labs and lectures. If two pairs of anything were worn out, they were probably the seats of lab coats. But the big surprise of the new year was the change in the roster. Our gayest bit of feminine scenery and beloved officer, had found the going too rough. "Solly's" stooge had been in an accident too many times coming back after holidays and by advice of the steering committee was finishing his trip in Budapest. Coopwriter could not resist Indiana's charm. Mullins wanted to be with the Praying Colonel of Centre; Wood became involved in the intricacies of the Hamburg Shift; Wilva Brown had a mix-up with mumps; and several more were missing. Valuable replacements surged forward. "Ma" Brown insured all of adequate bookstore service. The lantern slide department was adequately manned by Cross. Having lost one officer, the crew decided to mutiny and threw the rest of the officers to the sharks.

Panzarella became President; Greenberg, Vice-President; and Mangione, Secretary. Such has been the ability, chicanery, and diplomacy of the first and last, and they have remained in office since, while the hapless Vice-President has fallen in the wars of fraternity politics to Tarasuk and finally Steinberg.

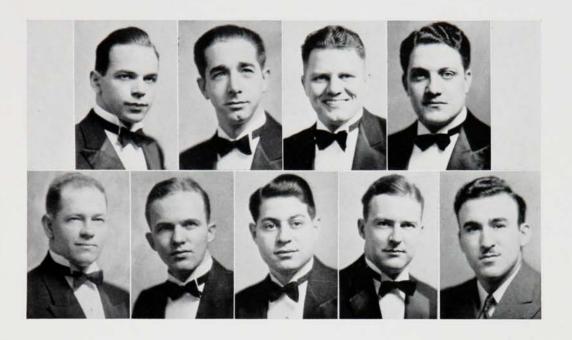

Thus reorganized, the ship sailed boldly onward, only to flounder in the toils of a second anatomy final exam from whose meshes they escaped to fling headlong into a Siamese maze of circles and plus-minuses. With labored breath and straining muscles the deck was once more cleared, the pumps manned and smooth seas sighted.

The few casualties were given honorable burial and replacements from Chicago and Hopkins accepted to fill the breech. Forward under full sail, the craft sped thru a highly successful junior year which found twelve of its members elected to the newly formed Smith-Reed-Russell honor society, and several initiated into the Beaumont Reading Society—also in its infancy. Then with smooth seas and smiling skies the class entered Senior year. New members were rewarded with Smith-Reed-Russell recognition until twenty-eight of the crew were enrolled—a striking commentary on the crew's ruling icon—industry.

And as a last obstacle, a final hurdle to prove the ability of the class, the usual final exams were replaced by a personal interview, plus a four-year comprehensive oral examination before boards of five unannounced inquisitors. But now the voyage is complete—the new route is established. Plowing its way steadily through the perilous, unchartered seas, the craft has reached its destination hardened, dependable, seaworthy.

BETWEEN OPERATIONS

PROPHECY

ARLY in the Spring of 1965 Alfred P. Thom, 3rd, long America's outstanding cardiologist, and by a series of legacies the first Vice-President of the B. & O. railroad, decided to take a trip to some familiar sites. Well supplied with passes and Pullman tickets, he gave final instructions to his animal man, Arthur Presti, not to abuse the guinea pig, and left Cleveland. En route he stopped at Toledo where, on the banks of the Maumee, Steinberg was now coroner by the influence of his uncle and some judicious stuffing of the ballot box. Alfred next halted at Scranton on an unscheduled stop. With no apparent cause the engineer had been seized with a fit of convulsive laughter which immediately identified the unfortunate fellow as Mandy. While waiting transfer of the lunatic to the Anthony Mangione Hospital, our traveler notices Dr. Scabelli's shingle. The latter is deeply interested in trying to make a hormone. At the hospital D'Onofrio is chief of staff, ably assisted by Drs. Mastellone and Valente. From the latter he learns that Crapolicchio is specializing in Pediatrics and as a diversion experimenting with foot ease powders.

Once more under way Alfred arrives at the great metropolis, where he soon meets many familiar faces. Josephson is owner of a chain of movie palaces, at which he daily ecstatically pre-views anything in celluloid, a copy of "Time" under one arm, "Esquire" in his hands. His chief projection man is Cross. Leibowitz stooges for the magnate, beseiging him for passes. The visitor is directed to the Mr. Sinai-Horowitz Hospital, where to his amazement he finds Horowitz trying to whistle with a new complete set of store teeth, with unconcealed joy in the success of the Horowitz tonsorial collection. On Park Avenue Christensen is a highly successful society doctor with Thelma Hunt posing as secretary, although she diagnoses all the cases that "Ozzie" bungles. The shock of the day is news that Ogus conducts a chain of commercial hospitals, with corresponding medical school courses on the side. Assistants in the enterprise are Weinstein and Wiltchik, the latter as medico-legal adviser whose detective work is ferreted out by Springer.

To rest from Gotham's excitement, the traveler crosses the river to Jersey. There he meets Jacobs, who retired from medicine after one year, is now coaching the local high school glee club. Caruso is the school doctor. All three ride into the hinterland, and visit Mary Faust, whom they find wedged into a sofa, surrounded by her nine children.

Rather disappointed in his metropolitan trip, our voyager boards a train for Washington. There strange things meet his eyes. The old school is not what it used to be. Havell is dean, and his stooge Johnson is professor of his favorite course, Bacteriology. Opsahl teaches infectious diseases, specializing in the meningitides. With this nucleus of liberal, broadminded faculty, the other positions are filled by men of proven calibre in their fields. Bauersfeld has been called from a highly successful career in the farm districts to take over the chair of surgery. Gustin is Chief Neurologist, specializing in ocular disturbances from pituitary tumors in one-eyed men. Hoover now devotes his entire time supervising the building and entertaining visitors. From him Thom learns that Kline and Castell research on the activity of the red blood corpuscle and its relation to hair restoration. There are rumors that the work is financed by Kline's winnings in gas-well stock manipulation. The Medical Society is having as guest speaker Robinson, who has just returned from Panama. Attentive listeners are Raffel, who is Alec's surgical assistant; Lewis and his co-worker Rack, who devote their time to Neurology; and the dermatologists Sullivan and Parent. The Mutual Cooperative Medical League of Washington is in full attendance. Abramson is President and Chief of Everything. Albert does the Ophthalmology work. George Baer is internist, and Abe Cohen does the surgery. They give the patient a thorough going over. Creer and Smith, who care for the ills of Washington's large Mormon population, have received letters indicating that Larson and Heinz have joined forces in Salt Lake City. Country practice was getting beyond their advancing years. They also state that Rogge is doing experimental work in a new type of Western Sleeping Sickness, using Qualheim as experimental patient. Rogge can't decide how much of the effect to give the virus credit for. Just then Robinson finishes his speech and is pompously congratulated by Glaubach, still inflated by that Trenton appointment back in 1935. Outside the building Kuitert, wearing an audiophone, is attempting conversation with Radice who could not get into the hall, the latter is attended by his physician, Dr. May, who specializes in endocrinology.

Leaving this pleasant company, our traveler goes to his hotel, where he finds Snyder is behind the desk. Panzarella is house physician, and Sisca house detective. LoVetere has reached his life's ambition with an appointment as Dean and Advisor to the Nursing Staff of Washington. Foreign news notes say that Dr. Tarasuk refuses to quit his work among the African pygmies for a New York appointment because of the height of the latter's operating table. Also, Dr. McQuarrie, engaged in cyrtometry research in Hawaii, makes startling discovery of new sizaceous rose spots. Just as he is about to turn in for the day, Alfred reads that Dr. DeMarco, eminent compensation physician for a chain of New England breweries, has discovered a new yeast to increase the yield and quality of the vat. Assisting in the work were Grillo and Popkins. Chief taster was that authority on foods McCullom. A short news item just below this article states that Helen Cook is doing some research on the effect of Ultra Violet light on Rickettsia bodies; assisting her and editing the work for publication is Cate. The educational notes say that Dr. Robbins, retired professor of elecution, is founding a new school of speech.

Greatly elated with the success of his classmates, Dr. Thom heaves a prodigious sigh and goes to sleep.

Views of Medical School

If the hospital looks like this, go home and go to bed.

After the smoke of battle clears away.

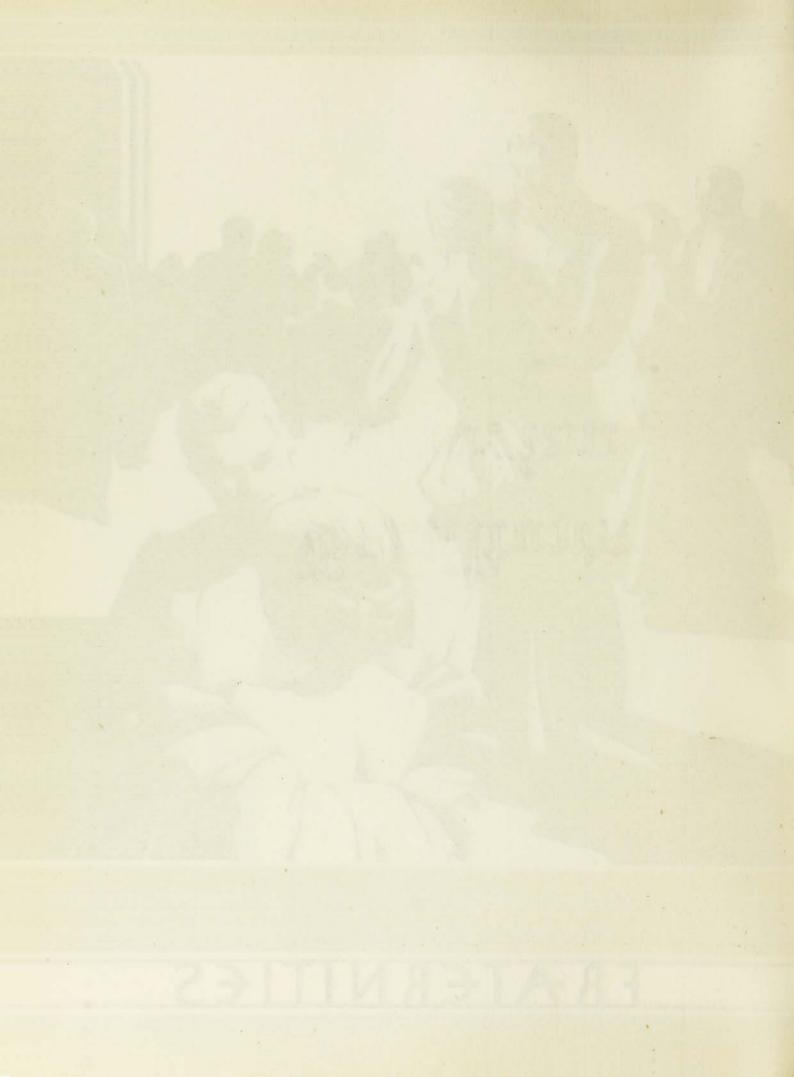

What, no guinea pigs?

Even Dudley reads the journal.

Each year Delta Sigma Rho sponsors a debating tournament in which the fifteen social fraternities and twelve sororities compete. A cup is presented to the winning fraternity and sorority team, becoming a permanent possession when won three times in succession by the same organization. This year the subjects were: for the Sororities, Resolved: That the Federal Government should adopt a policy of equalizing educational opportunities throughout the nation by means of annual grants to the several states for public elementary and secondary education. For the fraternities, Resolved: That legislation should be enacted providing for immediate cash payment of the soldiers' bonus.

PHI PI EPSILON

Prefessional Foreign Service Sorority

Founded at George Washington University, February, 1931.

Flower: Gardenia.

Colors: Dark Blue and White.

Phi Pi Epsilon, professional foreign service sorority, was founded at The George Washington University, February, 1931, for the purpose of creating and developing interest among the women of the University in the fields of foreign service and foreign commerce. Those eligible for membership must have completed sixty semester hours of credit with a 2.0 average, and must be interested in fields related to the subject of foreign affairs. This field is the last in which women have entered, and, therefore, Phi Pi Epsilon is a pioneer. Contacts have been made with people doing both field and domestic work in foreign service. Plans are being made for national expansion in the near future. Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen, American minister to Denmark, is an honorary member of Phi Pi Epsilon.

The Student Handbook contains general information regarding University activities. It is published and distributed without charge to the students at the time of Fall registration. It is in a handy pocket size and serves as a reference book to both new students and upperclassmen.

Introducing new students to the University, the Handbook carries a campus directory, historical outline of the institution, and the calendar for the ensuing year. Requirements for awards, assemblies and calendar with respect to Freshmen, are stated, as are membership requirements of all campus organizations.

WOMEN'S DEBATE TEAM

Not to be outdone by the male sex, the Women's Debate Team, coached by Professor Harold F. Harding of the Public Speaking Faculty, also argued both sides of the munitions question throughout the year. The subject chosen was: "Resolved: That the manufacture and sale of arms and munitions should be a government monopoly."

Maxine Farley and Charlotte Dubin opened the season for G. W., taking the negative against the University of Pittsburgh.

The same two ladies again took the negative in a contest with the University of West Virginia.

Following a contest with West Virginia, Reba Edelman and Jennie Garner argued the affirmative for George Washington against the College of William and Mary. The season was closed with a contest with Trinity College.

MEN'S DEBATE TEAM

In the latter part of October the men's debate team ushered in one of its busiest and most successful seasons when Dix Price and Arthur Murphy upheld the negative against the Oxford Union Society in Stockton Hall. The subject was: "Resolved: That the house favors the nationalization of armament production." All debates throughout the year were confined to various phases of the munitions question.

Taking the affirmative side of the question, Philip Merryman, James Edwards and Arthur Murphy carried the banner of George Washington against the University of Puerto Rico in the second international contest of the winter to be held on this campus. On March 4 Merryman and Murphy again upheld the affirmative on this same subject against the University of Florida in a radio broadcast over station WMAL. Taking the negative, Richard Buddeke and Ted Pierson represented G. W. when the same question was argued for a third time. William and Mary College supplied the opposition, the debate being held here.

Another radio debate was broadcast over WOL on March 19. Murphy and Pierson talked for G. W. against the University of North Carolina. On April 1 two debates were held—one here against Princeton and in Chapel Hill against the University of North Carolina. Pierson and Price debated here, while Merryman and Murphy argued in Chapel Hill.

On March 4 the men debaters organized a Debate Council. Arthur Murphy, who was elected President, is the originator of the plan. He appointed James Edwards to the position of Manager.

HOMECOMING BALL

The Main Ballroom of the Willard Hotel presented a gay appearance on the night of November 9 when the undergraduates joined to greet the Alumni at the third annual Homecoming Ball given by the University. Sorority and Fraternity Banners decorated the walls and the boxes, and gave a "collegiate" atmosphere to the occasion.

Early in the evening the newly-formed Alumni Glee Club and regular Men's Glee Club sang several well-known selections.

At midnight James Kirkland presented a member of Sigma Mu Sigma with the cup for the best decorated fraternity house.

McWilliam's Orchestra, led by Phil O'Brien, furnished music for the dancers from 9 to 1.

MARY LOUISE YAUCH

PAN-HELLENIC PROM

Dancing to the smooth music of Isham Jones and his world-famous band, co-eds and their escorts acclaimed the Pan-Hellenic Prom held in the main ballroom of the Willard Hotel, April 5, the most outstanding event on the year's social calendar.

All the boxes surrounding the large ballroom were decorated with colorful flags and each had a sorority banner as an added ornamentation and to distinguish one from another. These lent a gay and festive appearance, while the intricate lighting arrangement designed especially for the Prom which threw numerous color tints on the dancers proved most effective and pleasing.

The first hint of Spring was seen in the many new and vari-colored dresses worn by the girls which blended with the light and which were set off so attractively by the formal black attire of their escorts.

During the intermission cups for the intramural activities, volley ball, ping pong, bowling, and basket ball were presented to the winning sororities by Mary Louise Yauch, President of the Pan-Hellenic Council. The results of the bridge tournament were also announced at this time.

After the presentation the dancing again continued.

Those responsible for this highly successful affair were: Mary Louise Yauch, Social Chairman; Mary V. Spelman, Publicity Director; Ruth McNary, and Jane Hughes.

ROBERT SCHNEIDER

INTERFRATERNITY PLEDGE PROM

Pledges! Pledges! Pledges!

Together for the annual Interfraternity Pledge Prom held in the beautiful modernistic ballroom of the Kennedy-Warren on Saturday, February 12.

Jack Benson's very popular orchestra furnished music for the pledges and their guests. The various fraternity songs were played at intervals throughout the evening.

The traditional Grand March began at midnight, led by Bob Schneider, social chairman, and Barbara Baker; Maurice Draper, president of the Pledge Council, and Ann Pace.

ANDREW FREEMAN

ENGINEERS' BALL

Engineers, with their guests, gathered in the main ballroom of the Shoreham Hotel on Saturday evening, January 9th, to celebrate their fourth annual ball. Dancing began at 10 to strains of Dave McWilliam's ever-popular orchestra.

During the evening the Men's Glee Club, under the direction of Dr. Robert H. Harmon, presented a program of well-known selections.

At midnight Andrew Freeman, accompanied by Mary Louise Yauch, led the traditional Grand March around the Shoreham's beautiful ballroom. Dancing resumed and continued until 2:00.

The Prom committee was headed by Andrew Freeman, Social Chairman, and Terry McAdams, President of the Engineers' Council.

JAMES HALEY

INTERFRATERNITY PROM

Night of nights—celebrated by all Greeks—the Interfraternity Prom which took place in the grand ballroom of the Willard Hotel on Friday, March 1st. Red Nichols and his Pennies, famous for their recordings and radio work, provided the music for the evening. Program dancing prevailed. Each of the twelve numbers was dedicated to a different fraternity.

The colorful grand march was started at midnight by Eleanor Heller, escorted by James Haley, Social Chairman of the Prom, and Dorothy Graham, escorted by Morse Allen, President of the Interfraternity Council. Following the grand march, Gate and Key, honorary interfraternity organization, conducted their "tapping" ceremony, taking into their ranks thirteen men. Cups for the various interfraternity activities were presented to the winning fraternities at this time.

Ruby and amber colored lights playing on a crystal ball provided unusual lighting effects that blended the various hued dresses into soft harmony.

THE GENERAL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

It is the earnest hope of the alumni officers that members of the Class of 1935 will maintain a close and lasting association with their Alma Mater, individually and through the alumni organizations. A continuing interest in the University should be a part of the heritage of every graduate, and the alumni organizations are the channels which give direction and expression to this interest.

Regional Alumni Clubs in cities throughout the country keep alive the spirit of the University among alumni who are remote. If you are leaving Washington to take up your work elsewhere, you should make contact with the George Washington University alumni club in the city where you locate.

Professional Groups—Law, Medicine, Education, Library Science—foster friendship, cooperation and professional progress among graduates whose life work is in the same field.

The General Alumni Association coordinates these various forces and promotes alumni objectives which are common to the University as a whole and to its entire alumni body.

CHARLES SWISHER HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The Charles C. Swisher Historical Society is an organization for all students interested in history. At the monthly meetings talks on matters of historical interest are given by authorities on the subject and informal discussions follow. Several times during the year the club makes a pilgrimage to some nearby point of historical interest.

The International Students' Society, from its small beginning in 1930, has grown to 72 members, representing 26 countries.

The outstanding social feature of the Society's activities during this, the fifth year of its existence, was the series of "nights" allotted to the different national groups when members of each group presented songs, dances, recitations, and instrumental selections in their own distinctive national style. These entertainments were called Chinese Night, Teutonic Night, Latin Night, Russian Night, and Near East Night, and were unqualified successes. They have been, as has the work of the Society generally, of inestimable worth in promoting international friendship and understanding—the foremost reason for such an organization in the George Washington University.

The Society's annual dance at the Roosevelt Hotel was attended by many of the diplomatic corps.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE ORGANIZATION

Christian Science Organization at The George Washington University is one of forty-seven organizations for students and faculty of universities and colleges of the United States and England for the purpose of furthering Christianity.

Meetings are held the first and third Thursdays of each month during the school year in Columbian House and are conducted by a reader elected from the membership.

Activities of this year included a free lecture on Christian Science by Paul A. Harsch, C.S.D., a member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.; a reception at Columbian House for all students who at registration indicated Christian Science as their religious preference, at which the speaker was Bernard C. Duncan, C.S, a graduate of Pennsylvania State College; and maintaining in the University library books and periodicals on Christian Science, including the international daily newspaper, The Christian Science Monitor.

This organization, through the study of the Bible and the writings of Mary Baker Eddy, is enabling students to carry out more successfully the purpose of education—training for Citizenship, impartation of Culture, and development of Character.

THE WESTMINSTER CLUB

(Presbyterian)

PURPOSE

The Westminster Club is organized to deepen spiritual life and promote higher student morale in the University; to encourage Christian fellowship among the Presbyterian students and to give each student the opportunity to find a church home.

Early in the fall of 1930, a group of earnest Presbyterians under the able leadership of Dean Wilbur, formed the Westminster Club. Today it is ranked with the leading religious clubs of the campus. During this year the club contacted eighty students, ten of which were foreign students, and five of whom were Christian converts. The meetings of the club have been interesting and well attended.

EL CLUB ESPANOL

El Club Espanol of The George Washington University was organized in the fall of 1930 for the purpose of fostering among students an interest in the Spanish language and things Spanish. Membership is open to any student of the University. Meetings are held twice a month, and speakers are drawn from the various embassies and legations of Spanish-speaking countries in Washington, D. C. The club also functions socially by having numerous parties throughout the year.

UNIVERSITY DILEMMA

The whole academic layout, pictured in patchwork; not, perhaps, as the student actually sees it, but then possibly as he remembers it.

Ingenious people will recognize, among other things, Corcoran, Stockton, the library, the faculty club, and the gym. If you drive you'll appreciate a few more things.

The Cherry Tree Presents

THE MARCH OF EVENTS

In the following pages, we offer for your approval an informal glimpse of campus life in our University. This section contains a procession of the most important events of the year.

FUNMAKING . . . .

• The band benefits, Director Caminita goes nuts as annual Fiesta brightens up Yard. The bingo tent proves to be a real money-maker.

LOVEMAKING . . . .

• Author-Director Edmund Ziman shows Alan Warfield how it should be done. Eleanor Boehs, heroine, learns a bit, too. Other members of cast of "Take It Easy," 1934 Troubadour Show, look on.

MONEYMAKING . . . .

• James Edwards, Chairman of Co-Op Drive, tries to interest Karl Gay in a purchase. Other members of committee watch. Sue Slater wonders how it will affect her social life.

WORKOUT . . . .

- Camp Letts is the scene, September 2 the date. Fifty gridders begin 15-day seige of training in preparation for 1935 big ten-game season. Line plays are the order of the day, with Walsh acting as the opposition. The river, popular after a hard day's work, in the background.
- Coach Len Walsh tells Possum Jim just what's wrong — or is it what's right? Whatever it is, Pixlee listens with interest.
- It's a new kind of hop-skotch. You just step once in each tire, then take a double jump at the end, turn around and — oh, well. Note especially the expressions! Cute?

STRUGGLE . . . .

- The going is tougher as date for opening game draws nearer.
- It's just a friendly game of pileon as the gridmen return to town and take up their practice on the Ellipse. Lots of fun, maybe—that is, if you're on top.
- "Gangway!" Plowing through. Every man for himself. But it's all in fun—or rather, in preparation for the opening game, which is drawing near.

ASSEMBLY . . . .

• Registration completed, embryo physicians listen intently as Medical School holds opening assembly of current year.

OPENER . . . .

- Students take over Wilson Stadium for first game of season. Cheerleaders and benchwarmers in evidence. You, too—see, up there on the top row.
- Shepherd takes the rap at the rate of 41 to 0. A nice, drizzly day. A touch of what is to come.

DISPLAY . . . .

- Espey breaks out the pyrotechnics to greet the Citadel the "Little West Point of the South." First night game of season draws 10,000. Leemans, Plotnicki score.
- Band and enlarged cheering section form letter, G. W. Colonials come out on top of 26 to 0 score.

ANNIVERSARY . . . .

• Hatchet staff works overtime as Madigan decides to get out special ten-page anniversary edition.

VICTORY . . . .

• Florists cheer and sororities win as freshmen women break out with corsage rash. This girl is being hooked by the president of her chosen lodge.

JINX . . . .

- "Golden Hurricane" turns out to be a pale yellow breeze as G. W. comes out on top of a 10-0 victory. Rathjen and Deming score.
- Cheering stand works overtime and students tear up goal posts after game. Student Council dance follows.

RECEPTION . . . .

• Mrs. Barrows directs annual Mothers' Day. Co-eds give a mother the low-down on Corcoran Hall.

EVENT! . . . .

• Wake Forest gives team another victory. Sophomore Class holds dance at Willard afterwards. Lots of people attend; no deficit. Get it? No deficit!

DEFEAT . . . .

- Gridmen suffer first defeat at hands of Vanderbilt. Spectators crowd through gates early in afternoon.
- Playing is close throughout. Tennessee State Society and Student Council give dance afterwards. Both teams guests of honor.

HOMECOMING . . . .

- Louisiana State game scheduled as feature attraction of annual Homecoming. Students and alumni flock to stadium.
- The Junior Colonials fight out their series to entertain the earlycomers. Number four of the yellowjerseys makes quite a hit with spectators.
- Edith Mish and Dora Ramirez de Arellano, winners of 1934 Cherry Tree beauty contest, present flowers to Mrs. "Biff" Jones, wife of Louisiana State coach.
- "Biff" presents 6-0 defeat in return. Band parades between halves. 23,000 witness contest. Leemans called outstanding man on field.

CLIMAX . . . .

• Homecoming ball at Willard Hotel winds up round of activities. Sigma Mu Sigma wins cup for best-decorated fraternity house.

MUD . . . .

- Deming kicks the 3 in the 3-0 victory over Oklahoma in Thanksgiving Day game. Players slosh and slide.
- Officers of Kappa Kappa Psi, band fraternity, brave mud to present silver cup to director of Oklahoma Band, also a member.

TAPPING . . . .

• O. D. K. constructs giant replica of key. When placed on campus, names of 11 new pledges are announced on it.

COMEDY HIT . . . .

- Fairer members of cast of "The Torchbearers" listen as Director Anton Hardt starts in to explain just what it's all about.
- Everyone gathers about for climax of first act. Rehearsals acquire polish as production date nears.
- Candid camera takes you backstage during the presentation of Cue and Curtain's first play of the year. Amanda Chittum waits for her entrance cue. Hamilton Coit puts in a few minutes' extra study on his lines.
- Shot from the light bridge shows Maxine Kahn, Norma Michelson, and Machin Gardner doing a bit in the third act.

MARCH . . . .

- Louise Kramer and Russell Payne lead grand march at Junior Prom. Machin Gardner awarded prize for selling most Co-ops.
- Frances Goodrich, queen of 1934 Fiesta, makes early contribution to Food Drive. Thermometer set up on Campus records number of baskets filled. Runs over by Christmas.
- Committee fills baskets for presentation to poor. Futrovsky directs.

SPORT . . . .

• Girls watch ball with keen eye as ping-pong tournament gets underway. Lots of good, clean fun for all.

MEMORY . . . .

 Condemned buildings waiting to be torn down. Vacated to make room for brand new building, the registrar's office and science buildings will soon be nothing but a memory.

MIRROR . . . .

- This shot of the ceiling of the Kennedy-Warren ballroom accidentally took in a mirror. Those below are enjoying the annual Pledge Prom.
- Dancers look at camera. Freshmen begin to get some sort of an idea of what campus social life is really like. Features of the evening; the blond soloist, gingerale at 10c per glass, and a general good time.

HEADACHE . . . .

• Here it is. These industrious students are actually taking—and this time it's no fake—a final exam. It's social psychology.

PLUNGE . . . .

• Students here are making the plunge for the second semester. Scene shows plungers filling out program cards in Corcoran 10, thus tieing themselves down to a semester's struggle.

INVITATION . . . .

• Commissioner Hazen accepts invitation to attend fifth annual Engineers' Ball at Shoreham. Combined glee clubs entertain traditionally "woman-hating" engineers.

SALE . . . .

• President Marvin sets the pace as he buys first cherry blossom. Ruth Brewer is the charming saleslady.

HIGHLIGHT . . . .

• No, it's not the march on Rome. Just the grand march at the Interfraternity Prom. "Red" Nichols plays.

BROADCAST . . . .

• It's the studio at Station WMAL. And the second student radio program is on, with James Kinsella in the title role.

SMILE . . . .

• Troubadour chorines smile as they pause on practicing tricky routines for "Bride of the Incas."

HAPPY RIOT . . . .

- Director Harrold A. Weinberger at work on rehearsal of "Goodbye Again." Adele Gusack, Verna Volz, Deane Bryant, and Berry Simpson receive instructions.
- A tense moment in Cue and Curtain's second show. Gusack (secretary) advises Volz (old sweetheart) against marrying Danzansky (novelist). Harvey (husband) watches anxiously.
- Bryant (officious lawyer) and Chittum (sister) enter. Complications arise. Danzansky, caught, appeals to secretary. Should he sign?
- He doesn't, and all ends happily. Audience applauds, and cast lines up for curtain calls.

ATHLETICS

JAMES EBENEZER PIXLEE

The advent of James E. Pixlee as Director of Athletics at George Washington marked the beginning of a new deal in Buff and Blue sport affairs. Starting from scratch, he has gradually expanded the athletic program of the University until today the Colonials are feared alike on the gridiron, in the gymnasium, on the rifle range, in the swimming pool, on the baseball diamond or on the tennis court. Through his influence and under his direction George Washington's varsity teams have met opposition of the highest quality from all sections of the country. The phenomenal growth in the attendance at intercollegiate events is mute testimony of the highly respected position now occupied by the Colonials in the college sport world.

Mr. Pixlee came to George Washington in 1929 from Westminster college in Fulton, Mo., where he was for eight years director of athletics and head coach of football, basketball, baseball and tennis. During his regime Westminster won the Missouri state conference title four times; was conference basketball champion five times and was undefeated for three seasons. The profound respect of his players is proof of his ability and understanding personality.

THE COACHING STAFF

Max Farrington, All-Missouri Conference Quarterback from Westminster College in 1925, is the assistant athletic director and coach of all minor sports. He has been at G. W. since 1929.

Len Walsh, varsity line coach, played guard on the University of Minnesota football team for three years. He was named on Walter Eckersall's 1925 All-American. Possesses sound knowledge of line play.

Jean E. Sexton, freshman football coach, was fullback for four years at Westminster under Mr. Pixlee. He also supervises intramural sports and is instructor in the Physical Education Department.

William H. Myers, backfield coach and instructor in Physical Education, learned his football as a member of the Westminster College and Occidental College teams; All-California Conference halfback in 1929 and 1930. Roland Logan, former jayhawker, within two years has proven his ability as a basketball and football coach. He trained Glenn Cunningham for his world smashing records in the mile run and lesser distances.

John Baker, G. W. graduate of 1934, is the assistant backfield coach. Transferred his talents to the coaching staff after performing brilliantly for the Buff and Blue as quarterback.

Kermit Stewart, freshman line coach, starred for three years on the Colonials' line. His enthusiasm and ability to get his "stuff" across to the freshmen has been a big factor in G. W.'s fine line defense.

Jack Espey's fertile brain is responsible for most of the color injected into George Washington's football games. A veteran newspaperman, he knows the tricks of the trade from A to Z.

THE MANAGERIAL SYSTEM

The managerial system for intercollegiate sports has been used with great success by the athletic department for the past four years. It was founded on the merit system, allowing no opportunity for the undeserving to be pushed into managerial positions without experience. Selections are made by the coach in charge, the senior manager, and by the assistant director of athletics.

The senior manager is the directing head of all the managers. He rules the managers of all sports, and in promotions makes his recommendations to the assistant director of athletics with the cooperation of the coach in each sport.

Under his direction are the junior managers in charge of basketball, football, baseball, and minor sports respectively. Next in line are the sophomore managers who work in one or more sports and compete for the jobs of managers of freshman basketball and football, managers of minor sports, and assistant varsity managers. A freshman can serve only in the capacity of an assistant to a sophomore or junior manager.

A manager's life is anything but a bed of roses. Upon his ability and interest depends the comfort and well-being of the varsity squads on their out-of-town jaunts; equipment must be kept in top-notch shape both during the training and regular playing seasons, and on the silent but effective labors done by the managers depend much of the spectators' interest.

Ray Coombes, who was junior football manager last year, was made senior manager of athletics for the 1934-'35 season. The junior managers of basketball, football and minor sports were Russell Payne, John Swayze, and William Heine.

Karl Ruediger and Robert Phaler were sophomore managers of freshman football and freshman basketball.

The success enjoyed by the Colonial varsity teams the past year reflects the very efficient manner in which the managers did their work. They are the unsung heroes of a great athletic program in which they play an important part.

S ENIOR MANAGER

Ray Coombes, senior manager, was responsible for the very smooth functioning of the entire managerial system. His work, much of it unpublicized and unnoticed by the general public, was in no small measure accountable for the unprecedented success enjoyed by the Colonials during the 1934 football season.

H

WALKER, DANZANSKY, BRADFORD

It was when a "Yea-a-a BUFF! Yea-a-a BLUE! G. W. come through!" was sent echoing across the vast expanses of the Griffith Stadium, or a thousand voices filled the autumn air with the throbbing notes of "Hail to the Buff and Blue," or the rooting section went into one of its delightful colored card displays that the crowds at the Colonial football games became aware of the excellent work being done by Joe Danzansky, varsity cheerleader, and his corps of capable assistants. The thunderous applause that greeted the performances of the rooting section under the direction of the well-drilled cheerleaders well repaid them for the time and effort they had expended to add pep and color to the local games and to ably support the Colonials in their drive to give G. W. a winning schedule.

In rain or shine the cheerleaders stuck to their posts of duty. A notable example of sense of duty was displayed during the North Dakota fracas. Amid a downpour of rain that turned the gridiron into slush and caused the fans to desert the open stands in droves, Danzansky and his crew continued to exhort the 6,000 fans to give vocal expression to the old classic, "I'd die for dear old Rutgers spirit," with the result that the most enthusiastic support of the year was accorded the Buff and Blue eleven as it battled valiantly to turn back the mudders from the far North Country.

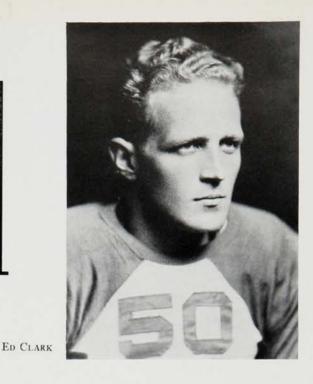

This year's staff included: Joe Danzansky, Sylvan Lappen, Bernard Holden, Hy Orling, Burton Minconski, Marvin Footer, Omer Hoebrex, Philip Schwartz, Carleton Edwards, Stanley Crane, and Jerome Gundersheimer.

"TUFFY" LEEMANS

answer to a coach's prayer in every respect; half-back on Jock Sutherland's 1934 All-Eastern eleven, he bids fair to become George Washington's first bonafide All-American during his last year as a member of the 1935 Colonial football team. He was a standout in every game against high-class opposition.

The 1934 Colonials won six games against rugged competition of national reputation to top by one the most number of games heretofore won by a George Washington football team in a single season. An unexpected scoreless tie and three narrow defeats completed the hard 10-game schedule.

Ten lettermen reported to Chief Coach Pixlee for the 1934 season. Of these, eight were linemen and the other two, backs.

With this nucleus, strengthened by additions from the former varsity and freshman squads, the coaches set out to build a defense that soon was to know no equal in the Middle Atlantic section. Of the four touchdowns made against the Buff and Blue during the season only one was shot through the forward wall. The lettermen who returned to start the season were Captain Edward Clark, tackle; Benedict Plotnicki, quarterback; Henry Vonder Bruegge, end; Sidney Kolker, tackle; William Parrish, end; Alphonse Leemans, halfback; Arnold Benefield, end; Henry Strayer, guard; Harry Deming, tackle; and Kenneth Rathjen, center.

Highlights of the season centered around the scoreless tie with Denver; the pulsating 10-to-0 victory over Tulsa; and the 6-to-0 defeat by the Louisiana State Tigers. An attractive intersectional card brought thousands of new fans to see the Colonials in action at Griffith stadium, and attendance marks not only for a single game, but for a single season in the district were broken.

Three Seniors are lost to next year's squad. Lettermen available for the 1935 season are Sidney Kolker, Alphanse Leemans, Harry Deming, Dale Prather, Henry Vonder Bruegge, Edward Watts, Ray Hanken, Benedict Plotnicki, George Jenkins, Herbert Reeves, Charles Mann, Arnold Benefield, Orville Wright, Frank Kavalier and Kenneth Rathjen.

GEORGE WASHINGTON, 41; SHEPHERD, 0

Against Shepherd College in the season's inaugural the Colonials fulfilled advance predictions by trouncing the West Virginians 41-to-0 on a slightly muddy gridiron. The game was nothing more than a warming up exercise, and all the men on the squad saw action during the game.

The stage was set for "Tuffy" Leemans, half-back, to open his sensational 1934 grid campaign which grew in brilliance with succeeding months. Playing less than a half, he scored three markers and piled up 139 yards from scrimmage to top the day's scorers.

Tiring badly under the constant battering of new recruits, the Rams weakened noticeably in the last few minutes to turn a tenaciously contested battle into a complete rout for the Colonials.

Against weak opposition the Pixleemen flashed much potential power and a well knit defense. They gained 345 yards from scrimmage while holding their courageous foes to a single first down.

GEORGE WASHINGTON, 0; DENVER, 0

On the far-flung Western gridiron of Denver University the Colonials' march to an undefeated season was unexpectedly halted when the Pioneers held them to a scoreless draw in the second game of the year. Fumbles aided by penalties at crucial moments contributed largely to the downfall of the powerful Colonial eleven.

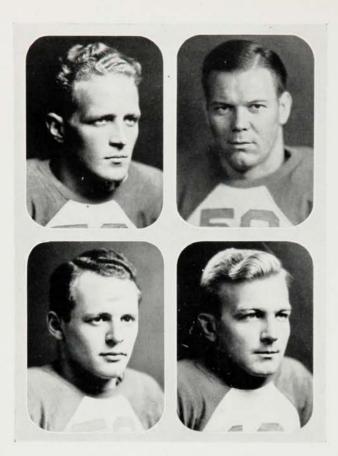

George Washington was superior to the Rocky Mountain boys in every respect. The Buff and Blue gained 275 yards from scrimmage for an astonishing total of 20 first downs. Denver could make but two first downs for a net loss of one yard.

Twice within a yard of a touchdown, the Buff and Blue attack bogged down. Then, again, when it seemed that sustained drives would surely result in a score, penalties practically nullified the running attack of the Colonial backs.

Leemans, halfback, and Brewer, fullback, continued the fine offensive play begun against Shepherd.

Plotnicki falls before the driving Vandy line.

CLARK, PARRISH STRAYER, WITUCKI

ED CLARK, Tackle

A fine leader whose play was always an example for his mates to follow. The quiet, reliable type of player who varied little week after week.

fense.

Bernie Witucki, Center
Was great relief for Rathjen and did a fine job when injuries benched the latter. Great on pass defense. Had lots of spirit. Picked on West Va.'s all-opponent team.

GEORGE WASHINGTON, 10; TULSA, 0

Refusing to be awed by the "jinx" that the Tulsa Golden Hurricane had cast over them for the past four years, the Colonials smacked the "hoodoo" into discard with a resounding 10-to-0 win over the Oilers before the largest night crowd of the season. It was a sweet revenge after a quartet of bitterly fought feuds with the colorful Oklahomans.

Tulsa's most potent offensive attack proved to be its undoing. Late in the final quarter Rathjen intercepted one of Dennis' forward passes, and his subsequent journey of 25 yards through the bewildered opposition for the only touchdown of the game tied up the decision for the Buff and Blue. Deming converted from placement. His place kick from the 20-yard strip earlier in the second quarter gave the Colonials a three-point lead that eventually was sufficient to win the nerve-racking battle.

Tulsa outgained George Washington in first downs by the narrow margin of five to seven. A superior defense, however, turned the trend in favor of the Buff and Blue to presage the most successful season in the school's history. It is a game that will be remembered for tricky aerial attacks and stubborn line play.

GEORGE WASHINGTON, 26; THE CITADEL, 0

Snapping back to normal after their unsuccessful jaunt against Denver, the Colonials ran wild to bury the Bulldogs under a landslide of touchdowns to win handily the second home game of the year.

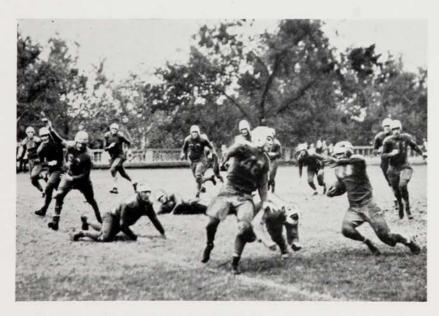

Leemans crossed the goal line three times, and Plotnicki accounted for the additional six points. Prather crossed the final stripe, but a holding penalty nullified the attempt.

Twenty-five first downs were registered by the Colonials. The Bulldogs made but two.

GEORGE WASHINGTON, 6; WAKE FOREST, 2

Wake Forest's heavy and fast eleven almost upset the Buff and Blue as the Colonials nosed out the Deacons by a 6-to-2 margin. The North Carolinians' safety was the first score made against George Washington in 1934.

The Deacons featured a baffling mixture of spinners, reverses, passes, and tackle smashes from a short punt formation. They carried the attack to the Colonials, who, still showing the effects of the strenuous Tulsa game, regained their stride to eke out a narrow victory.

LEEMANS, RATHJEN PLOTNIKI, DEMING

TUFFY LEEMANS, Halfback

Carried the entire burden of ballcarrying, passing, and kicking on his shoulders all season. Gained 1,054 yards for an average of better than 5 per try. Made all-Eastern and deserved all-American.

RED RATHJEN, Center

This burly 200-pound lad took care of the pivot post in great style and seemed to improve as the season neared its close. An intelligent, alert, lineman who had no weakness in any department of play.

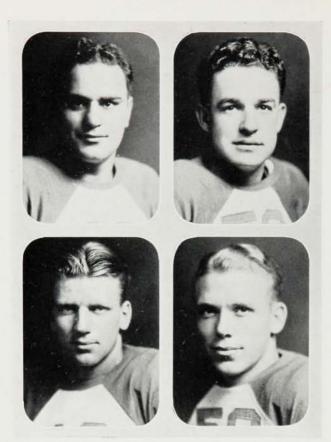

BEN PLOTNIKI, Halfback

Made his critics of year before eat their words. A trifle light but still a handy man to have around for any type of backfield duty. May reach stardom in his senior year.

HARRY DEMING, Tackle

A star in his first year, Harry seems to get better as time passes. Recognized as an outstanding forward, he also won three games with expert place-kicking. Captainelect.

KOLKER, BENEFIELD VONDER BRUEGGE, WRIGHT

SID KOLKER, Guard
Worked into a regular post after a season of subbing and was a heady, dependable forward. Required little relief and cared for his work ably.

ARNOLD BENEFIELD, End
After a brilliant sophomore season he was handicapped all last fall with injuries. Should come back stronger than ever in his last season.

HANK VONDER BRUEGGE, End
One of those men who never quite makes the grade as a starter but is often called on once the game is under way. Said Walsh: "I'd be lost without Hank." Counted on heavily for next year.

AB WRIGHT, End
Started as a guard but changed to a flank in training camp. Took naturally to his new post for which he is admirably built. Became a regular when Benefield had to be relieved for injuries.

GEORGE WASHINGTON, 6; VANDERBILT, 7

Vanderbilt, perennial topnotcher in Southeastern football circles, handed the Colonials with the initial reversal of the season, 7-to-6. In turning the trick the Commodores became the first team to puncture the Colonials' goal line. Wake Forest's safety was the only other score previously made against G. W.

Vanderbilt's score was the indirect result of a blocked punt. Plasman, end, came in fast to block Leemans' kick and J. Dickinson grounded the ball on the Colonials' 9-yard line. On a fake end run Dixon, quarterback, passed cleverly to Geny in the end zone. Plasman's conversion provided the winning margin.

The Colonials came out fighting to start a passing attack in the third quarter. Jenkins' return of the kickoff put the ball near the 42-yard line. A pass, Leemans to Benefield, fell incomplete. On the next play Leemans heaved a pass to Bill Parrish, who ran the remaining 33 yards for a touchdown.

The usually dependable Deming's place kick went wide of the uprights, and George Washington was tagged with its first defeat.

George Washington made 10 first downs, and Vandy but 2; all in the first half.

Leemans leads the Buff to victory in the first night game with Citadel.

H

GEORGE WASHINGTON, 10; WEST VIRGINIA, 7

With the score tied at 7-to-7, Deming kicked a placement over the crossbar from the West Virginia 18-yard line to give the Colonials an inspiring victory in their last foreign game.

George Washington scored first in the second quarter, Leemans taking the ball over from the 16-yard line. Deming's kick was true.

The Mountaineers fought back strongly, and by the aid of some great passing by Gocke, the aroused foemen crossed the line as Slate nabbed a 28-yard pass and stumbled across the last chalk line. Onder kicked the tying point.

GEORGE WASHINGTON, 0; NORTH DAKOTA, 7

North Dakota proved itself superior in mud to George Washington to score a fourth quarter 7-to-0 triumph before 8,000 fans.

The "break" of the game came at the end of the third canto. Leemans' punt was blocked on his own 33-yard line. Campbell punted outside on the one-yard stripe. After a short forward stab Leemans then attempted to punt. Chumich, 200-pound tackle, blocked Tuffy's kick to fall on the ball over the goal line for six points. A Kupcinet to Falgren pass added a point.

Closing the season with Oklahoma in a sea of mud.

JENKINS, KAVALIER HANKEN, REEVES

George Jenkins, Quarterback

Not picked as a starter when the schedule opened, Jenkins soon worked himself into a regular job. Will probably go better in the future now that he knows his position. A scrapper from the opening whistle.

FRANK KAVALIER, Fullback

Never seemed to reach his potential strength. Switched often before finally settling down at fullback. May star there in another year.

RAY HANKEN, Halfback

Had that toughest of all jobs—the blocking back. Played it nicely and also turned in some heady defensive work. Chiefly responsible for halting Tulsa's "spread" plays.

HERB REEVES, Halfback

Showed great possibilities which should develop in the fall. Has plenty of speed and nice running style ideal for cutbacks off tackle used by Pixlee. The type of back needed most last year.

PRATHER, WATTS MANN, PARRACK

DALE PRATHER, Tackle

Has great physical makeup and fine attitude towards the game. Didn't play as much as was expected last season but should capably fill Clark's shoes for two years to come. Potentially a star of the first rank.

ED WATTS, Tackle

A powerful defensive player who would have seen more action had he been anybody's sub but Deming's. Improved greatly with a little experience. May surprise Prather in the fight for Clark's position in the future.

CHARLIE MANN, Guard

Was at sea in his first year at guard but improved lots after he caught on. Showed up well with the other subs against L. S. U. Another bright prospect for the future.

DAVE PARRACK, Guard

Good head-on blocker. Played his best at all times. Lack of confidence chief trouble and he improved in that respect as the season wore on. Will fight it out with Brickell for Strayer's job.

GEORGE WASHINGTON, 0: LOUISIANA STATE, 6

The Louisiana Bengals, pride of the bayous; proteges of their most partisan fan, "Kingfish" Long, and incidentally a darn cleverly coached football team, turned in the only clear-cut win registered over the Colonials in 1934. In one sense the 6-to-0 defeat amounted to distinctly a moral victory for the Colonials. Facing the Purple and Gold grid machine Leemans confounded the opposition to win recognition as one of the East's greatest halfbacks.

The only marker of the game came with climatic swiftness. Late in the first canto Sullivan, safety, took a low punt, and behind rushing interference headed for the goal line 70 yards away. Leemans, in a spectacular tackle, evaded three interferers to bring his man down just over the 10-yard line. After two jabs at the line failed, Yates went over to give L. S. U. a margin of six points that grew in importance as the battle waged furiously to a weary end. First downs; G. W., 7; L. S. U., 5.

For some unexplained reason Abe Mickal did not engage in his much publicized expected encounter with Leemans. It is doubtful, however, if he could have matched "Tuffy's" performance of blinding speed and crushing power.

Joe Kahl, fleet Tulsan, is stopped by Leemans and Pettit.

GEORGE WASHINGTON, 3; OKLAHOMA, 0

Deming kicked a 17-yard field goal in the second quarter to bring the Colonials a 3-to-0 victory over the University of Oklahoma as the Buff and Blue brought its most successful grid campaign to a close before 8,000 Thanksgiving Day fans.

As in the North Dakota game, the rain combined with mud to play havoc with the Sooners' aerial attack and the Colonial's powerful running offense. Water changed the gridiron into a series of miniature swamps, and coordinated team play was an utter impossibility. The two teams resorted to the "prayer and punt" system in the hope that a "break" could be turned into a scoring opportunity.

A fumble by Gentry, Oklahoma's star tackle, paved the way for the field goal. Deming fell on the ball on the 25-yard stripe. An offside penalty, plus a series of line smashes, sent the ball up to the 9-yard line. On the fourth down Deming's attempt for three points was good.

The Sooners threatened in the final canto. Coker, end, picked up Leemans' blocked punt on the 40-yard line. Strayer caught him from behind at the 8-yard line, and all hopes died as Stacey's attempted field goal was blocked.

Vanderbilt's Dixon in full flight against G. W.

BRICKELL, HOWSER PETTIT, TRINASTICH

HAP BRICKELL, Guard

One of the most dependable scrubs who came through whenever called upon. Learned easily and with a year's experience behind him, should have a good future.

BUD HOWSER, Guard

One of the few local boys on the squad, Howser suffered mainly from lack of experience last fall. He picked up as the season ended and may produce some surprising line play next year.

HORACE PETTIT, Fullback

A splendid line bucker who suffered from lack of experience more than anything else. Backs up the line nicely but unfortunately fumbled several times when it hurt the most. A comer.

GEORGE TRINASTICH, Halfback

Another of the deserving reserves who can look forward hopefully. Hit his stride often enough to show that he had something. Has possibilities as a good ball-tosser with seasoning.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL

JEAN SEXTON

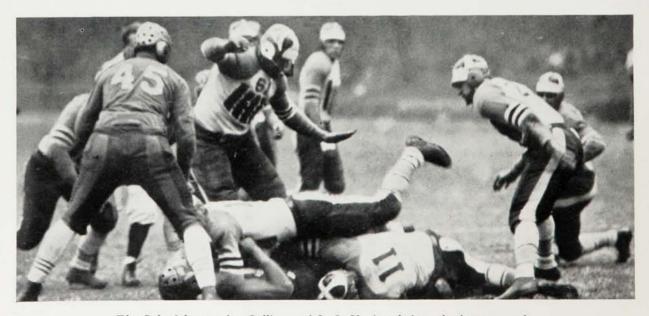

With nothing more than opportunity to bask in the reflected glory of the varsity's success and in the hope that they some day might don the uniform of a regular for compensation, the frosh gridmen toil daily for three long fall months so the Colonials might uphold their prestige on the gridiron to the edification of thousands of fans and to the complete joy of the rabid Alumni.

But theirs is not a life of monotonous practice. One evening finds them staging an aerial circus with all the reckless abandonment of the Tulsa Hurricane; the next night they may be attempting to run the ends with the finesse of the Louisiana State Tigers and again they are apt to be served up as cannon fodder to the varsity as it tries to cross the goal line against the make-believe Vanderbilt Commodores. Variety, yes, more than

Mr. Heinz' 57, but their services are indispensable and the satisfaction they derive from a well-earned Buff and Blue victory provides the motivating power for them to submit time and time again to the bruising scrimmage against the Pixleemen.

It is from the Freshman team that the source of material for the varsity squad is drawn. The training received during unrecognized plebe days enables the coaching crew to begin advanced varsity practice with a minimum loss of time.

Under the able direction of Jean Sexton, the yearlings displayed impressive potentialities and from the outfit may emerge a number of candidates who will give the lettermen a run for their money as the Colonials prepare for the most rugged campaign ever scheduled.

JIMMY HOWELL

Howell, playing his last year in varsity competition for the Buff and Blue, failed to reach the form shown during the previous season. However, he never gave up and never stopped fighting when the going got tough. He was a good leader and inspired his team mates by his cool, steady headwork under fire.

He was awarded the Gate and Key cup for the second year in succession as the most valuable player on the squad. His total of 161 points for the season placed him second in the team's scoring. Howell will be remembered for his flashy but often erratic shots from all parts of the floor.

Opening the season with Shenandoah.

Fourteen wins and six losses. This statement curtly sums up the history of George Washington's basketball season.

On paper the Colonials looked to be unbeatable. Five lettermen reported to Coach Logan, and the squad was further strengthened by members of the freshman team, 1934 District A. A. U., titlists.

Several new men made good with the squad. Outstanding were Hal Kiesel, elongated center; Ben Goldfaden, forward; Walter Bakum, and Clarence Berg, guards, all from last year's freshman squad.

The team's play alternated between the sublime and ridiculous. One night the team would go great guns, and then the following evening would be upset by a club that was rated to be nothing but a "pushover" for the Buff and Blue five.

SEASON

CAPTAIN JIMMY HOWELL Forward

Unfortunately never reached the form he showed in his junior y ar, except on rare occasions. However, never gave up and never stopped fighting. A good leader. Winner of the most valuable player award again.

HAL KIESEL Center

Reached his peak against C. C. N. Y., in which he played one of the most brilliant games seen here all season. Not the heavy scoring type but a fine team player. An all-D. C. choice.

BILL NOONAN Forward

Relegated to the bench after a season as a regular, Bill soon showed his old-time form when he began to see service regularly. A fine money play r who made up in fight and height what he lacked in grace.

BEN GOLDFADEN Forward

Something of an in and outer but one of the best when he wanted to be. Knows the game thoroughly and has fine build for the block and other scoring plays. Lad the team in scoring. Another all-D. C. selection.

CLARENCE BERG

Probably the best defensive man on the team. Steady always but never brilliant, he played well when used and proved to be decidedly valuable in a pinch. Should clinch a regular post next year.

TUFFY LEEMANS Guard

Transferred his natural athletic ability from the gridiron to the court with little difficulty. Gave the team need d brawn and though not a good shot, made points when they were needed most. Good passer.

WALTER BAKUM Guard

Handicapped by the lack of a strong physique. A brilliant passer and floor man who directed the attack capably. Came out of a mid-season slump to play some fine basketball. Has some fine years ahead.

MILTON SCHOENFELD Guard

Displayed the dash on several occasions when his mates seemed ankled to the floor that saved the offense. Not as consistent as some of the others, he nevertheless had plenty of hustle, was an excellent passer and dribbler.

DALLAS SHIRLEY Guard

Lost ground in the rush of sophomores who were more brilliant. colorful than he. Dal fought to regain his old guard post and at times seemed his old self, but there were too many fine guards for any player to clinch a berth.

GEORGE FREILICHER Guard

Not a regular but a valuable reserve, George had what was needed to pull tough games out of the fire. He pushed the others continually and in another year may show more improvement than any of the regulars.

RED RULEY Forward

Showing a decided improvement over last year, Red displayed some real fight and though not a polished player, managed to make himself very objectionable to the opposition. The season's surprise.

CAL GRIFFITH Guard

Last year near the end Cal came along fast but was snowed beneath the avalanche of extraordinary material this season. Was one of the faithful scrubs who do so much to make any ball team a success.

Starting the season with wins over Shenandoah, Randolph-Macon, Geneva and Wittenberg, the team bowed to Indiana by four points just before the Christmas vacation.

The Colonials lost to a supposedly weak Drake team in the first game after the holidays, but downed Lynchburg by a 30-point margin.

The team rose to heights generally expected of it by whipping Nat Holman's C. C. N. Y. stars by 11 points. Elon found the Colonials off stride, but succumbed in a close game. Despite the efforts of Roberts, intercollegiate ace scorer last year, Emory and Henry bowed in one of the season's best games. The Loganmen ran true to form by falling to the little heard of Davis-Elkins cagers by four points.

Villanova was beaten by four points at Philadelphia, but West Virginia rallied to win by a field basket at Morgantown. Wake Forest was easy on the home floor.

The New York City invasion was even-Stephen. Long Island set the Colonials down by a huge score, but St. Johns was beaten for G. W.'s first Gotham victory.

Western Maryland and Baltimore were the next home victims. A four-point win by Temple closed the local cage season.

G. W. finished the in-and-out season by defeating Geneva at Beaver Falls, Pa., in a return engagement.

Eight lettermen remain, and Coach "Bill" Reinhart, recently of the University of Oregon, will be able to start what should be a successful campaign with a wealth of seasoned material.

The Freshman cagers with twelve wins and three losses created a record superior to that expected of them before the start of the season.

The cubs outscored their opponents 498 to 334. A low free throw percentage may be responsible for the reverses counted against them by high class opposition.

COACH ED MORRIS

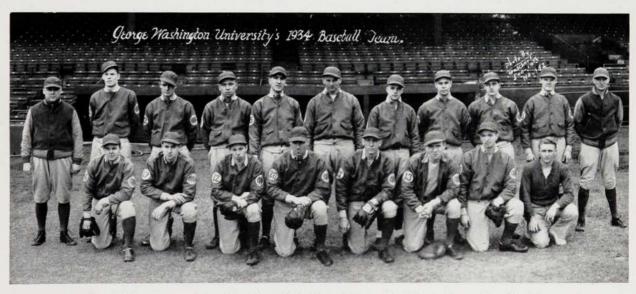

After dropping the first two games the Colonial baseball team fashioned a string of 11 consecutive victories, and thereby created the best record ever made by any Colonial team during a season.

Hard hitting, keen mound work and smart fielding were features of the season's allaround brilliant playing.

Around a nucleus of six veterans Frank T. Parsons, Jr., rifle mentor, had but little difficulty in moulding a squad that appeared to be on a par with the excellent teams that had represented the Buff and Blue in the past. As usual ten men shot in each match with the five high scores counting.

Last year's Colonial riflemen returning for competition were Captain Oscar T. Neal, Richard H. Free, F. W. Turnbull, Robert J. Martin, F. W. Hornbrook, Jr., and James H. Cross, Jr. The men shooting for the first time in "big time" competitions were:

G. W. got off to a good start in its quest for the championship of the Middle Atlantic League by winning its telegraphic meet with the Georgetown Hoyas by the score of 1361 to 1311. The Colonials were victors in a telegraphic meet with V. M. I. by the score of 1373 to 1331. It was the second league victory for Parson's proteges.

Penn State next turned back the Buff and Blue sharpshooters in a non-league shoulder-to-shoulder match by the close margin of 1335 to 1331.

In a shoulder-to-shoulder match on the Maryland range the Buff and Blue riflemen eked out a 1347 to 1340 victory over the Terrapins to chalk up their third league victory in as many starts.

In a shoulder-to-shoulder match the G. W. marksmen easily overwhelmed a five-man team from the Marine corps Barracks by a score of 1321 to 1277.

The Colonial targetmen kept pace with the Navy snipers in league matches by winning over a strong West Point rifle squad by the score of 1383 to 1365 in a match which was fired via Western Union. The score of 1383 was the highest five-man total fired by Parson's proteges to date.

Western Maryland handed George Washington its first league defeat of the season. The score was 1374 to 1370. Before a determined squad of Navy sharpshooters the Colonials fell by a score of 1403 to 1327 in a shoulder-to-shoulder match staged on the Annapolis range. It was the second consecutive league defeat for the Buff and Blue and definitely put George Washington out of the running for the league title.

Three more matches remain to be shot off. Virginia Polytechnic Institute and National Guards are scheduled to meet the Colonials in a duet of telegraphic meets, and upon them depends whether or not the season can be termed successful.

The rifle season will come to a close with the National Intercollegiate Match. This will be shot shoulder-to-shoulder, and the Buff and Blue marksmen can make the finale a fitting climax to a rather disappointing season if they finish high in the standings.

COACH FARRINGTON

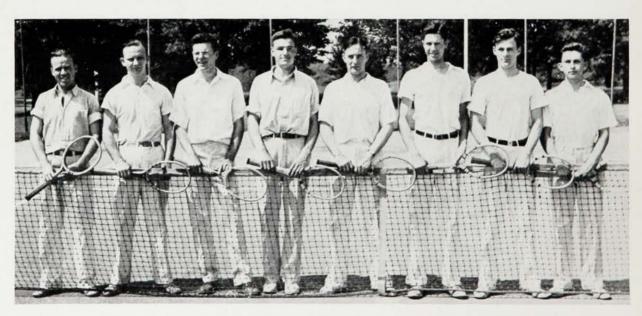

Opening the season with a squad of six veterans, Coach Max Farrington turned out another strong tennis team which won five of its six matches. Johns Hopkins again was the only squad to down the Buff, beating them 7 to 2.

Outstanding among the triumphs were victories over Lafayette and Washington and Jefferson. Both extended G. W., the latter managing to pull the matches out of the fire at the last minute to win, 5 to 4.

Teddy Pierce, captain-elect, went through the season undefeated, winning his tenth straight match in two years of play.

Victories over Temple, Wake Forest, and Delaware were rather easily scored.

George Washington placed third in District A. A. U. championships.

SWIMMING

The veteran G. W. swimming team, last year's District A. A. U. titleholders, failed to perform up to expectations and did not win any one of the three meets scheduled during the season.

Ghormley and Carter were outstanding for the Buff and Blue. In competition Ghormley was undefeated in the 220-yard breaststroke, and Carter set a new D. C. A. A. U. record in the 440-yard free style at 5:34.2.

Ghormley's time of 2:42 in the 220-yard breaststroke set a new record in the Eastern Intercollegiate meet. Carter's third place in the same event gave G. W. 7 points and fifth place in the teams' standing.

INTRA-MURALS

The intramural sports program is devised to allow students who are not capable of participating in varsity competition an opportunity to compete for individual and team titles, and thus give them an opportunity for organized athletic activity. The intramural tournaments are open to all, and every freshman should utilize this chance to participate in his favorite sports.

This year the intramural program was under the direction of Jean Sexton. Competition was keen and spirited and a larger number than ever was attracted by individual and team play.

The winners of the intramural tournaments were:

Tennis—Paul Gellman, winner; Nat Spencer, runner-up. Doubles—Max Kay and Paul Gellman, winners; Nat Spencer and Robert Brasted, runners-up.

Golf—LaMar Campbell, winner; Terry McPherson, runner-up.

Horseshoes—Robert Melpolder, winner; Ray Sherfy, runner-up.

The intramural baseball league championship was won by Pre-Medics. The Engineering School was second.

INSTRUCTORS

Miss Ruth Atwell, director of the women's physical education department for the last six years, formerly taught at Stanford and Denison Universities and Hollins College. She is president of the District Physical Education Association, co-director of Mountain Lake camp for girls, and past vice-president of the Eastern Society of Directors of Physical Education for Women.

Mrs. Ruth Aubeck Foster, graduate of Columbia University and Central School of Physical Education and Hygiene, was formerly a physical education instructor at the University of Pittsburgh and Randolph-Macon College. She studied dancing in New York under Gertrude Prokosh and at the Bird-Larsen studio. She also studied dancing at the Denishawn school in Washington.

Miss Helen Lawrence received her B.S. degree at G. W. after graduating from New Haven Normal School of Gymnastics, and studying at Roanoke College and Columbia University. She is a national judge, co-director of the Mountain Lake Camp for Girls and chairman of the District Basketball rating committee. She has been health education secretary of the Y. W. C. A.

Miss Helen Lea, latest addition to the Physical Education Staff at G. W., is a graduate of Ohio State University. She attended the graduate school of physical education at Wellesley and received her Master's Degree from Columbia University. She taught at Ohio State and the University of Iowa before taking up her duties at George Washington.

WOMEN'S ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

The Women's Athletic Association of George Washington is the guiding body of all sports and clubs connected with women's athletics in the University. The association is a member of the Athletic Federation of College Women and of the National Amateur Athletic Federation, Women's Division. The executive board of the association is composed of the officers, class representatives, sport managers, Hatchet representatives, and the manager of Intramurals. Members of the board this year are Gretchen Feiker, president; Ruth Critchfield, vice-president; Janet Feiker, secretary; Isabelle Elms, corresponding secretary; Frances Thompson, treasurer; Blanche Horner, publicity manager; Virginia Pope, social chairman, Managers Jennie Garner, Mildred Loveless, Ruth Young, Natalie Hicks, Leila Holley, Frances Ridgeway, Frances Wright, Jane Ficklen, and Ruth Brewer, Hatchet representative. Each year the W. A. A. sponsors three banquets at the close of each sport season. Major, minor letters, cups, numerals, and placques are awarded on these occasions. The year's activities included individual tournaments in tennis, swimming, archery, and golf, intramural tournaments, and interclass tournaments in hockey, soccer, tennis, swimming, basketball, baseball, volleyball, and rifle. A party for freshman women, and sports days with nearby colleges complete the W. A. A. program. The only requirement for membership in the W. A. A. is membership on any of the teams or in the various managerial positions.

SOCCER

Soccer, one of the two most popular women's sports at George Washington, was under the direction of Miss Helen Lawrence, coach, and Mildred Loveless, manager, this year. Ethel MeKoen, Janet Stulz, Cecelia Couch, and Betty Angus, were chosen as class managers. At the annual sports meet between Hood, Goucher, and George Washington, both the Frosh team and the upperclass team were victorious. When the honorary varsity in soccer was picked at the end of the season, the following were included: Janet Stulz, Alicia Mooney, Caroline McMillen, Mildred Loveless, Audrey McCuen, Isabel Richwine, Katherine Hagenah, Betty Angus, Mary Cline, Mary Ferry, Frances Knapp, Ethel McKeon, Mary Kuch, Eleanor Feseler, Isabel Arenson, Kitty Del Valle, Harriet Hartnette, Sidney Miles, and Elizabeth Coale. The Junior-Senior class teams was awarded numerals for the interclass tournament.

HOCKEY

Proving that Hockey is the most popular sport with lowerclassmen, enough freshmen came out to make five teams last fall. At the intercollegiate fall sports meet, the hockey teams climaxed their season with three wins, two defeats, and two ties. Miss Margaret Lea, who is a new addition to the physical education staff, and Jennie Garner, hockey manager, directed the teams. Louise Erk, Betty Hewins, Marge Hatke, Frances Ridgeway, and Charlotte Hazard led their class teams. In the sports week program the upperclass team was The honorary varsity team was composed of Frances Ridgeway, Mary Haley, Virginia Pope, Camille Jacobs, Jennie Garner, Jane Harrison, Charlotte Hazard, Frances Thompson, Gretchen Feiker, Ruth Critchfield, and Marcia Horner.

Hockey and Soccer classes were held on the ellipse.

BASKETBALL

Seventy-five people came out for basketball this year. Practices were held four days each week in the gymnasium. Miss Helen Lawrence coached the players, with the assistance of Ruth Critchfield, manager. Class managers were Janet Stulz, senior; Frances Ridgeway, junior; Margaret Graves, sophomore; and Alison Claffin, freshman. The George Washington basketball teams played the Goucher College teams February 16 in Baltimore and were victorious in six out of eight games. freshman team was victorious in the class games with two wins and a tie followed by the seniors with two wins and one loss. With two losses and one victory, the sophomores placed third, and the junior team came last with two losses and one tie. An odd-even game and a game between the honorary varsity and the alumnae were highlights of the basketball season.

VOLLEYBALL

Under the supervision of Miss Margaret Lea, instructor in the women's physical education department, volleyball aroused much interest in women's athletics this year. There was no interclass competition this season under the W. A. A., but two mythical teams were picked from the members of the various classes. Mildred Loveless acted as manager of volleyball the first semester but resigned because of ill health the second semester. Ansley Spaulding was appointed in her place. Volleyball was elective in freshman classes this year and sophomores received credit for it also. Class managers were Margaret Moore, freshman; and Frances Perry, sophomore. No letters were given this year because volleyball was not included in the major sports.

Volleyball and Basketball classes were held in the gym.

JANE FICKLIN

FRANCES RIDGEWAY

RIFLE

More than seventy-five women reported for rifle last fall. Under the supervision of Jane Ficklin, manager, Helen Hanford, coach, and Mary Louise Yauch, captain, the varsity squad made a fine record in their matches with Drexel, Missouri, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Washington, and Carnegie Tech. Those picked for varsity were Mary Louise Yauch, Jane Ficklin, Mary Spelman, Ruth Brewer, Lorraine Lincoln, Helen Bunten, Marjorie Sehorn, Irma Johnson, Louise Rex, Dororthy Pickett, Maxine Farley, Marjorie Harrison, and Villette Sullivan. The gold medal to the winner of the individual squad match was awarded to Dahlia Lewis this vear. The freshman class team won the class match in March and the members of the team received numerals. Assistant managers were Carolyn Watson, Peggy Rucker, Marjorie Harrison, Mary Fulgham, Villette Sullivan, Dot Pickett, and Dahlia Lewis.

SWIMMING

Frances Ridgeway, manager, and Miss Margaret Lea, replacing Miss Agnes Rogers as swimming coach, directed this year's swimming season. An intercollegiate telegraphic meet and an interclass meet were part of the schedule in the annual program for G. W. women.

Janet Young received the W. A. A. cup for the winner of the individual swim meet last year. Caroline MacMillan and Frances Ridgeway were runners-up. Lee Harvin won the diving contest and Janet Young received second place. The intermediate group match was won by Beverly Marshall with Mary Herbert Fulgham following.

This year "Fins," the swimming club, was reorganized and fifty girls turned out for the two meetings a week at the Y. W. C. A. pool. Letters were not awarded in the sport last year.

Eight events were scheduled for the spring swimming meet.

FRANCES WRIGHT

VIRGINIA POPE

TENNIS

This year Camille Jacobs received the silver cup awarded annually by the women's athletic association for the winner of the tennis singles tournament, which was played off during the homecoming program. Alison Claffin was runner-up in the fall tennis singles tournament. Out of many aspirants, eight girls were qualified for the tournament. They were Whitney Strayer, freshman manager; Florence Asher, Charlotte Hazard, Alison Classin, Marjorie Sehorn, Camille Jacobs, Gretchen Feiker, and Mollie Brown. Frances Wright, manager of tennis, and Mrs. Ruth Foster, instructor, directed the sport. Last year Mary Wade Moses and Betty Cochran won the women's doubles tournament. The interclass match was won by the Juniors. Classes in Tennis were held both in the fall and in the spring.

GOLF

Though a new sport and one not firmly established at George Washington as yet, golf is gradually acquiring a following among the women students. Due to lack of participants, there was no competition in golf this fall, but the spring golf classes are being anticipated by many women. Golf was one of the most interesting exhibits in the University Mothers' Day program last fall. In this exhibition, Virginia Pope, manager of the sport, coached the women. Virginia has won three tournaments in the University and held the junior golf championship for three years. Golf classes in the spring are held on the East Potomac links. Each year tournaments are held in the sport. Last year Betty Shipp won the golf singles championship and Virginia Dillman was runner-up.

NATALIE HICKS

LEILA HOLLEY

ARCHERY

University archers took part in the tri-college sports day, the homecoming program, and the fall sports week this year. With a score of 152, Verna Volz won the intermediate class tournament during the sports week. Jane Waybright was the runner-up in the tournament. In the beginner's class, Mary Louise Hall was the victor and Nancy Ansell took second place. Last spring the women's Intramural Board presented Jane Harrison with the cup given annually to the winner of the advanced archery tournament. Ruth Critchfield and Alice Corvdan won second and third places. Mrs. Ruth Foster coached the archery classes and Natalie Hicks acted as manager of the sport this year. Next year letters will be awarded for archery in the fall as well as in the spring.

Plans are being made for an archery club in the University.

BASEBALL

Baseball brought out its usual number of enthusiasts this spring. Leila Holley was manager of the sport this year. Miss Margaret Lea coached the teams and the classes. Last year Miss Agnes Rogers coached. Mary Haley assisted her. In the interclass matches, the junior-senior team was the victor. Games and baseball classes were held on the ellipse where hockey was played in the fall. Major letters were presented to the honorary varsity last year at the spring W. A. A. banquet. Those who received letters were Reba Barton, Gretchen Feiker, Mary Haley, Leila Holley, Virginia Pope, Alicia Mooney, and Frances Thompson. Charlotte Hazzard and Margaret Snow received minor letters. Assistant managers were Reba Barton, Lee Harvin, and Theda Hagenah.

Baseball concluded the women's physical education program for the year.

INTRAMURAL

Alpha Delta Pi and Phi Delta, with a tied score, received jointly last year the cup and placque awarded annually by the women's Intramural Board to the team making the highest score in intramural competitions during the vear. Officers of the board this year are Ruth Young president; Eldridge Loeffler, recording secretary; Helen Bealke, corresponding secretary, and Peggy Graves, treasurer. The intramural program consisted of five sports this vear. Sigma Kappa and Alpha Delta Pi had charge of volleyball; Kappa Kappa Gamma and Kappa Delta arranged the ping pong contests; Pi Beta Phi, Phi Delta, Chi Omega, and Zeta Tau Alpha sponsored bowling; and the horseshoe tournament was under the guidance of Phi Mu and Phi Sigma Sigma. Alpha Delta Theta and Delta Zeta managed the tennis games and Alpha Epsilon Phi and the Colonial Campus Club were named publicity directors.

DANCING

Dancing, including clog, rhythmic, and folk, is the most popular sport in the winter program. A student recital terminated the winter program in March. Last year a dance symposium was held in March also. Eight colleges were represented on the program. This symposium, the third annual one, was held in conjunction with Orchesis Dance Club under the direction of Mrs. Foster. A discussion follows each exhibition of dancing. Officers of Orchesis, which meet weekly in the recreation room of a nearby church, are Janet Feiker, president; Virginia Pope, vice-president; Cecilia Couch, secretary; and Ethel McKeon, treasurer. Classes in dancing are held either in the men's gymnasium or in the Western Presbyterian Church.

The March recital was participated in by members of all the dancing classes and Orchesis.

N bringing this volume to a close, we wish to observe that the task, although long and tedious, has had its redeeming features. The work of all those who have helped in any way with the production of this annual has shown the fruitfulness of cooperation. At this time we want to especially thank Mr. Henry William Herzog, graduate manager of publications, for his ever-ready helping hand and his valuable counsel. We are deeply grateful to the faculty committee, composed of Dean William Crane Johnstone, chairman; Dean Henry Grattan Doyle, Dean Elmer Louise Kayer, Mrs. Vinnie G. Barrows, and Mr. Max Farrington, who so kindly consented to select the outstanding students for the Hall of Fame, a difficult task in view of the numerous eligible seniors. We want to thank McClelland Barclay, world famous artist, whom we deem it an honor to have as the selector of the beauty section. We are grateful to Mr. W. A. Daniel, representative of the Benson Printing Company, for his assistance and advice in regard to many of the problems that arose; to Mr. Emmet F. Deady, representative of Lynchburg Engraving Company, for his valuable aid, and to Mr. J. E. Casson, photographer. We want to make special mention of the diligent work of Shaw Mathews, student photographer, for his exceptional pictures for the March of Events and the campus queer views. To the Hatchet, its editors and business manager, merci beaucoup, for the helpful publicity given our book. And last but not least, we wish to express our appreciation to the board and the staff who gave so freely of their time and proved to be both competent and efficient.
